HOW TO EAT EDAMAME?

Just put one EDAMAME POD in your mouth, slide out the EDAMAME BEANS with your teeth, and discard the pods. If you'd rather not do this every time you eat edamame, you can first remove the beans from the pods, and then place them in a bowl. To spice up things a little, garnish them with our spicy mala spices.

鶴梅の梅酒

UMESHU from WAKAYAMA PREFECTURE

RICH • SWEET • FRAGRANT • FRUITY

The nose on this plum sake made in Wakayama, which is the heart of plum country, is a fabulous collection of plum, honey, citrus, brown sugar, and rock candy aromas.

This Tsuru-Ume series are brewed and blended with the long experience and the rich skill and recipe in the liquor sprits brewing works of Heiwa Shuzou brewery. The most specific idea of living in this modern world stands on the understanding of "Lifestyles of Health and Sustainability." In this idea, our Tsuru-Ume series are hand-crafted in the concept of LOHAS style. That is why this series is not for mass production and easy consumption. You will know it when try!

Recommended serving style: Add water/seltzer, or mix with sparkling wine, or simply on the rocks

Yuzu sake

TSURUUME YUZU NIGORI 350

served with complimentary Cucumber Slices and Edamames

鶴梅 ゆず

YUZUSHU from WAKAYAMA PREFECTURE

RICH • SWEET • FRAGRANT • FRUITY

A very addictive, refreshing Yuzushu from Heiwa.

Yuzushu is a citrus-driven 'limoncello-style' drink from Japan made from the yuzu citrus fruit. This Heiwa expression is made with yuzu juice and one-year-old junmai sake at a 1:1 ratio, which is a higher ratio of fruit juice than the typical.

Beautifully fresh and aromatic, it's clean and citrusy on the palate with refreshing acidity and tartness. The fruit for this is sourced from Wakayama and is juiced with the peel to bring our both sweet and bitter elements. The zesty acidity is well balanced with juicy sweetness and the full body of Junmai Sake.

Perfect for summer heatwaves, amazing over ice.
Usually served straight on the rocks or with sparkling water as a spritzer.
